

10/673,787

One skilled in the art could have adapted the steam nozzle mixing action from an espresso machine to a single serving use food container like Cai 6,582,743. The steam delivery system and container combination described in the present invention is not designed specifically for single serving use.

Sharples in 6,550,372 uses a beater to mix, commonly found in a mixer. A standard mixer does not chop.